Canary Wharf is a London Underground station at Canary Wharf and is on the Jubilee line, between Canada Water and North Greenwich stations. The Canary Wharf Estate now includes over 1.5m sqm of retail and office space. This covers Canada water, Cabot Square and Westferry Circus, together with Heon Quays, West India Quay and Wood Wharf. The new TfL development within the station has provided TfL with an opportunity to provide a 'critical mass' of retail.

Over 30 million people pass through the station each year, making it second busiest on the London Underground outside Central London after Stratford, and the busiest that serves only a single line.
